"I really liked the JellyJames software. I've been trying it out with the students in my class and its great. It means that instead of testing them on a one-one basis, they can work at their own pace. I think you've really got something here - a programme that allows the students to keep a record of their improvements and at the same time get statistical information in the form of bar graph which they can understand. The best test of any software is to give it to the students and if after a week, they still want to use it then it rates as a success. They still want to use it!

Number Bonds has good graphics, colouring, calm air. The ticks are instant (which, as with the other software is very helpful). Because of the progressive nature of this programme and the logical presentation of 'add 1' or 'add 10' etc.is very helpful to me. The language is always encouraging and motivating.
